Dear Mr. Snow,

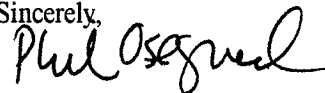

It is clear to anyone who is paying attention that the biggest issue in California's future in the coming decades will be access to safe and pure water, whether it be agricultural, wildlife, or "domestic" users. Wise water usage and allocation guidelines are imperatives in future considerations.

Public servants who have been entrusted with maintaining our future water needs to be made aware that it is vital to support the Smart Alternative options put forth for consideration. The concept of efficient usage should be paramount.

Our ecosystems need to be preserved for future generations of all it's inhabitants- both man and animal. I urge that you support the "Smart Alternative.

Please include my comments for the formal record for the draft EIR.

Sincerely,

Phil Osegueda
